INQUIRIES IN DOUBT WHETHER THE MAN CONVICTED OF KIDNAPING MARY PHAGAN WAS LYNNCHED OR REMOVED FROM HIS CELL BY FRIENDS—SHERIFF'S POSSES SCOURING THE COUNTRY TO FIND TRACE OF HIM.

BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.

MILLEDGEVILLE (Ga.) Aug. 16.—Leo M. Frank, Georgia's noted life-term convict, was removed from the Georgia prison farm here by twenty-five armed men who overpowered and wounded Smith.

Previous to the attack wires leading from the prison itself had been cut. Frank was placed in an automobile and rushed in the direction of Colquitt.

It has not been ascertained whether Frank was lynched or the parties who removed him from the prison were his friends.

MEXICANS ATTACK AMERICANS UNDER COVER OF THE NIGHT.

FIERCE FIGHT NEAR BROWNSVILLE, IN WHICH ONE UNITED STATES SOLDIER IS KILLED AND TWO WOUNDED.

MORE THAN A HUNDRED MEN FORD THE RIO GRANDE AFTER DARK, FALL UPON TWENTY-ONE MEMBERS OF THE TWENTY-FIRST CAVALRY AND THEN DISAPPEAR—SOLDIERS AND TEXAS RANGERS ARE NOW HUNTING FOR THEM ALONG THE BORDER.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Aug. 16.—About 100 Mexicans under cover of darkness tonight forded the Rio Grande near Mercedes, about thirty miles up the river from here, and partly surrounded twenty-one men of the Twenty-first United States Cavalry. They killed one trooper and wounded two. For a time it was reported that the Mexicans were advancing on Mercedes but at midnight all had disappeared. Soldiers and posse are searching the brush for them.

Ranger Lieut. Reynau at Mercedes telephoned State Adjutant-General Hutchings here that Corporal Wilman of Troop O, Twelfth Cavalry, was killed and Lieut. Roy O. Haney of the same troop was wounded.

Reynau said he understood 270 Mexicans had crossed and that they were coming to attack Mercedes.

Ranger Reynau in an early report said he understood the Mexicans had crossed in three bands. Mercedes, according to the disposition of troops in this region, should have available tonight seventy United States cavalrymen and half a dozen rangers for protection, besides vigilantes who have been organized in force there. Reynau said it was reported that in addition to the Mexicans who had crossed the river a large number of others were lined up on the Mexican side. Reinforcements of rangers and soldiers from Harlingen were ordered rushed to Mercedes by automobile. Harlingen is about fifteen miles from Mercedes. Mexicans who crossed the river would have seven or eight miles to cover before they reached Mercedes.

Reinforcements to Mercedes should reach there ahead of the Mexicans, according to officers at Brownsville. Mercedes has no definite details early tonight of the fight by soldiers at the crossing, but said it was reported there the Mexicans had practically surrounded the small outpost of American soldiers.

Six other soldiers in the detachment at the ford were surrounded and sent a messenger to Mercedes for help. At 11 o'clock tonight Mercedes reported that cavalry, infantry and Rangers had gone from there to rescue the troops at the ford.

At that hour it was believed the danger of attack on Mercedes had passed. The ford where tonight's attack occurred is at Progreso, the point where Mexicans exchanged shots with American soldiers last night.

A local Mexican paper this afternoon printed an assertion that Gen. Nafarrete at Matamoros had had Monterey for 2000 troops on account of the garrison at Fort Brown here. There was no confirmation of this.

The battle at the crossing was short but sharp. The troopers were unable to say whether the main body of Mexicans crossed to attack them or whether the crossing was a cloak to cover crossings at other nearby river points. In addition to darkness the Mexicans had the cover of thick brush and bends of the river. During the height of the fighting the soldiers said many shots were fired from the Mexican bank opposite their camp.

RUSSIAN ARMY NOT BEATEN; NOR IS IT DEMORALIZED.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.

LONDON, Aug. 17, 3:30 a. m.—The Times' military correspondent, dealing with the warfare in Russia, says:

"In conformity with the general plan of retirement, Grand Duke Nicholas has now withdrawn his forces from Poland to points west of the line of Ossowetz, Bialystok and Brest-Litovsk and we shall learn within a few days whether he intends to make a long stand on this front."

"The staff of the Russian armies have performed difficult tasks with the greatest competency. Attacked in an untenable position by six or seven Austro-German armies, the Russians fought steadily back and are now in line.

The Russian armies are neither beaten nor demoralized, nor dispirited, but they are not yet out of danger, nor can they be until the menace of Von Hindenburg in the north is disposed of. If Von Hindenburg is free to move he will not cross the Sventza river until the main mass of the German armies is at close grips with the grand duke and is able to prevent the latter from throwing himself upon Von Hindenburg with all his forces."

"Chief interest centers in the struggle north of Nieman in the defense of Kovno and in the decision of Grand Duke Nicholas to stand upon the Brest-Litovsk line or to continue his retirement. The real crisis is still to come."

Optimism.

AGREEMENT IN BALKANS PREDICTED IN LONDON.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.

LONDON, Aug. 17, 2:55 a. m.—Telegraphing from Nish, Servia, the Times Balkan correspondent promises an early agreement between the Balkan Slavophiles if a conciliatory attitude on the part of Servia will effect this.

"The prospects of an adjustment of the difficulties between the Balkan states," the correspondent says, "have in one particular locality."

CHARGE GROSS FRAUDS.

Official of Southern Steel Company are Defendants in Suit to Recover $2,848,487. (38)

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—An action to recover $2,848,487 was brought in the Supreme court today by Brooks Schiff & Company, London bankers, and Cecil A. Grenfell, also of London, against the reorganization committee of the Southern Steel Company.

Among the defendants are Cornelius Vanderbilt, Otto T. Bannard and Robert R. Van Cortlandt.

The plaintiff's charge that "through fraudulent representations" made by Van Cortlandt, as a member of the reorganization committee and William W. Miller, an attorney, they were induced to subscribe to large blocks of securities issued by the steel company when it was reorganized in 1902.

SEVERAL VESSELS IN THE HARBOR ARE REPORTED TO HAVE BEEN WRECKED.

GOVERNMENT WIRELESS STATION LOSES ALL CONNECTION WITH THE PORT—"WIND INCREASING IN VELOCITY, BAROMETER FALLING," IS TEXT OF ONE OF THE LAST MESSAGES FROM THE TERRIFIED INHABITANTS OF THE ISLAND CITY.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Aug. 16.—The army wireless station here received a report from the transport Buford at Galveston, tonight, that the water had risen ten feet and that several vessels had turned over in the harbor there.

The government wireless station here to-night, after trying without success to raise Galveston or Texas City, received the following report by wireless from Fort Sam Houston at San Antonio:

"Fort Sam Houston reports it has been calling Galveston since 8 o'clock in vain. Texas City reported at 2 p.m. that he expected his mast to blow down at any time. He also reported he had word that water was going over the causeway at 6 o'clock p.m."

LAST WORD FROM GALVESTON.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.

GALVESTON (Tex.) Aug. 16 [By Telephone to Houston.]—At 8 o'clock the barometer registered to 29.0 and still falling. The wind is blowing 65 miles an hour. There is about three feet of water in the streets near the bay. No great damage to property has occurred and no loss of life has been reported.

AN OPTIMISTIC MESSAGE.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) Aug. 16.—At 5:30 p.m. the following private telegram was received here from Galveston:

"We may be cut off from wire communication at any time but we shall be in no danger as long as wind is in the northeast. You can discount any sensational reports."

Chronology.

HOW THE GREAT STORM DEVELOPED IN GALVESTON.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.

GALVESTON, Aug. 16.—The tropical storm which struck Galveston today, while very severe, has caused no serious damage and no loss of life at 8 o'clock this evening. The Galveston seawall, built as a precaution against such hurricanes, had withstood the fury of the storm and showed no signs of weakening. The storm struck the city late in the forenoon at a velocity of thirty-four miles an hour. At noon it had increased to sixty miles an hour, and during the afternoon fluctuated between sixty and seventy miles an hour, blowing in a northwesterly direction.

At 8 o'clock tonight the highest velocity was sixty-five to seventy-three miles an hour, with wind gusts blowing at high ninety miles.

The only damage thus far caused was the destruction of window panes and insecure woodwork on exposed buildings.

A heavy rain fell throughout the day and tonight the streets are filled with water to the curbing.

At 8 o'clock tonight the barometer stood at 29.42 at 7 a.m. was 29.50 at 12:30 p.m. Occasional bursts of spray were blown over the sea wall on to the boulevard by the wind.

At 2:45 p.m. this afternoon the wind's velocity was forty-five to fifty miles an hour and the barometer stood at 29.42.

At 3 p.m. the wind was blowing at the rate of fifty-eight to sixty miles an hour. The barometer stood at 29.37. Up to that time there had been no damage and no flooding of the city.

At 4:15 p.m. the wind had attained a velocity of sixty-two miles an hour, with the barometer reading 29.38. There had been no damage and no flooding of the city. The exodus of people had begun.

EFFORTS TO GET TRAIN INTO GALVESTON FAIL.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.

Houston (Tex.) Aug. 16.—The Southern Pacific Railroad to-night sent a train out in an effort to reach Galveston. The Galveston causeway still was standing but the force of the wind was such that it was almost impossible to get across and the last interurban car took nearly an hour to make the trip, because of the high wind.

This car reached Virginia Point, the first stage on the mainland, at 8:15 o'clock and had not yet reached Houston at 10 o'clock. The barometer was standing still at Houston and the wind had abated somewhat at that hour.

The government weather observer at Houston tonight said there were indications that the storm had left the gulf and had struck the mainland between Galveston and Houston. All means of communication between the cities were put out of commission. There has been no property damage in Houston.

met in conference here today and outlined their work for part of the week.

The sessions will open tomorrow.

Light upon the lumber business of California will be light first by the commissioners. Both morning and after-noon sessions tomorrow will be given over to executive representatives of the lumbering interests, who will tell the commission of alleged demoralized lumber markets, conditions in the state because of which it is said lumber is being manufactured at a loss.Wednesday the commission will give over to a study of California shipping problems. Some of the principal ship authorities, including Robert Dollar, president of the Robert Dollar Steamship Company, will offer their views to the commission, mainly upon the effect of the recent seamen's act.The commission on Thursday, when it hopes to end its work here, will hear reports of varied industries by officers of these interests, including grain growers and dealers, canned and dried fruit, tobacco, mining, lumber, paper and oil products, machine themselves side by side, standing together on common ground, facing death. And there they judged one another.

Mr. Guisan delivered his address in French and it was interpreted to the convention from the platform.

Edward Hyatt, State Superintendent of Schools, was the first speaker welcoming the educators to the State and Mayor Moore, of Newark, followed, presenting the keys of the city.

A. C. Barker, the local superintendent of schools, voiced the welcome of the school department.

Charles C. Moore, president of the Panama-Pacific Exposition, and James H. Barr, director of congresses of the exposition, also voiced a welcome.

Vice-President Swain responded with a few words of thanks and urged the teachers to turn their attention to the works of peace and a better nation.

"We are proud to be here," he said, "representing many nations, and all the States of this Union, fired with the spirit of education and in the belief that we represent a grand army of the republic, which is mightier to save than all the millions of loyal soldiers which, led by the spirit of militarism, are marching to destruction."

"May every teacher in attendance at this congress return to his other work with a lighter heart and a clearer vision of duty. In no better way can we thank California today."

JORDAN FOR PEACE.

The chairman, dwelling on the power of teachers in inculcating into the child a hatred of war, said in part:

"War is always the destroyer. It is comparable to a great lava flow that annihilates the earth, feeding branching in every direction, searching out vegetation, weeds with the flowers, thistles with the fruits, and leaving a trail of evil not removed for years or centuries."

Thrift may become a feature of the curriculum of public schools as a result of the endorsement by the directors of a communication from S. W. Straus, president of the Thrift Society, who offered to finance the proposition for two years to the extent of $5000 and who asked that a committee be appointed to take up the subject.

Before adjournment the board confirmed the appointment of the following directors for next year:

L. Brittain, Georgia; Fred L. Keefer, Michigan; George E. McCracken, Nevada; Miss Emma Gardner, Wisconsin; E. J. Bowdell, Nebraska; H. W. Kennedy, Hawaii; W. H. Martin, Missouri; E. J. Taylor, North Dakota; J. F. Ebey, Kansas.

Ernesto Nelson, director of secondary education of Argentina, reported in a speech on the importance of secondary education at the night session of the convention, declared that the machinery of education remained the same today, in most respects, as it was 15 years ago.

"It is our duty as teachers to question this claim. If we find it un-founded in our business to help our children to see its fallacy. War and not peace is the negation. Peace is the peace of the interval between wars, the period of fanning for the great struggles which decide the fate of nations. It has been taught, and by great teachers, that war is the nation's voluntary exercise, the growing of the body politic."

"We must so organize our school regime that students may gain genuine knowledge through actual performance of activities, not through the mere memorization of printed pages. Laboratory work is an important right direction."

"Upon the only educators worthy of the name are those who instruct in manual training, drawing and physical education, for they pass over an activity and let nature do the rest."

Prof. Frank Smith, State Superintendent of Education of Augusta, Me., and William F. Gugan, professor of education at Stanford University, addressed the delegates of "Organization of Public Education."

Mr. Smith declared that education in schools had always failed; that some schools did so high a plane that only "freedom from control" could, and that a social aim should dominate our scheme of education.

"To better serve citizens," he said, "we must make them. That is up to the teachers. Individual instruction is the way in which this duty can be accomplished."

WOMEN AND THE WAR.

Woman's love of martial music and the trappings of war was given as blame for the European war by Mrs. Philip Snowden, wife of a member of the British Parliament, in an address on "Woman and the War."

"Education is the remedy for war and all social, industrial and political conditions which make for war," she said.

"I honestly believe the negative goodness of men and women is just as much responsible for war as the bad in the bad men and women of the world."

Hatred, misunderstanding and enmity of evil, with the commission of wrong to one another, must be put into the past and behind us.

They tell us they do not make war on women, but that the war is for the women.

"My God! How can they tell us that when they are killing our men? You cannot fight for women when you kill their men."

"It is already our own fault—this war. We must admit that we love the uniform. We women affect military styles in clothing and we even allow our children to dress in a military way."

"We must have less admiration for the uniform and more hate for war."

"I want to tell you women it is not the glory of the marching host to martial music, the regiments in all their military smartness, and finery, and the rattle of the rifles on the battlefield; the daring deed of valor performed under fire of the enemy that counts."

"I'll tell you what counts."

"It's the period of the battle with the combat sons of women we call for their mothers."

"Let us make it impossible for such things ever to happen again. We women must do it."

"Nothing good has been achieved by peace, but it can be achieved by peace."

"Nothing beneficial can be traced to the present bloody conflict that could not be achieved through the channels of peace."

FRENCH MORAL TRAINING.

The effect of moral training in French schools was shown by the conduct of troops in the war, it was discussed by Ferdinand Buisson, member of the French Chamber of Deputies.

"There is in our opinion," he said, "an A.B.C. of conscience just as there is an A.B.C. of reading."

"The early teaching of those primordial elements of morality is considered by us as not less indispensable than the teaching of the elements of language and calculation for all children."

"What value this education has you may judge at the present hour. Men, previously far apart in education, in opinion, in creed, have found

State Board Lowers Taxes on the Hatch-Hatchy Land Because of an Error of Judgment.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE)

SACRAMENTO (Cal.) Aug. 16.—The State Board of Equalization today granted the request of San Francisco for a reduction in the assessment of the Hatch-Hatchy property in Tuolumne county, which is the property of San Francisco. On the 1200 acres of land which had been assessed for $100 per acre the board reduced the assessment to $50 per acre.

The board also reduced all assessments on water rights and reservoir sites to $1 each.

The total assessment of the Hatch-

Hatchy in Tuolumne county was $74,345. The board cut out $547.

154 lands at $2,225 per acre.

The Assessment of Tuolumne county,

according to the Board of Equalization, should have assessed only the land and improvements which were assessable at the time Hatchy Hatchy was purchased by the state of California in 1908.

The land and improvements consisting of buildings and fences, but the claims to water rights and reservoir sites are situated in the national forest reserve and are not assessable. The board also remedied this matter.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—Atty.

Gen. Webb rules that the Supervisors of the counties in California are required to fix the various county tax rates on the first Monday in September.

Under the amendment to the State revenue laws passed by the recent Legislature and effective last week,

the date on which the Supervisors shall fix their respective rates was changed from the third Monday in September to the first Monday.

As the first Monday in September is Labor Day, a question arose as to whether the Supervisors should act on legal holiday or continue the time until another date.

San Francisco Stands to lose Millions Yearly.tion Described by Interested Trademen.
DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCHES
SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU
TIMES, Aug. 15.—San Francisco is losing millions of dollars in oriental trade by the reduction in tonnage by the new law forcing the Pacific company's fleet of steamers off Ocean.

We are not sufficient vessels now between San Francisco and the Orient, without doubt, to meet the increasing demand. The tonnage can or will be done after a few weeks. The Pacific Mail Company has been withdrawn from the foreign trade is the uninsured policy of local wholesalers and export feared was experienced today in circles, which are now the aroused, that in event of war or greater trouble, we will be affected. The Japanese will be affected. The Chinese will be affected. The British will be affected. The Americans will be affected. The situation is serious.

view was taken by Chas. F. Haas Bros., who said: "The situation is a serious one known as the Danube and the Danube is reduced to do not ship to the Orient. We don't have vessels to carry the Orient to the Orient. The department announced tonight that no reply had yet been received. When the conference would be made public until Secretary Lansing and the Latin American diplomats had another conference.

Official reports were received during the day that several of Carranza's men had been sent to the first chief and would not report personally. Officials here still hope, however, that at least some of the leaders aligned with the Carranza faction will be persuaded to remain in conference.

Orders finally were dispatched today to the battleships Louisiana and New Hampshire, en route to southern waters, to proceed at once to Vera Cruz. They are expected to arrive Aug. 18. Wednesdays, Capt. McLean, on the Louisiana, has been directed to assume command of American naval forces in Mexican waters. The gunboat Marietta, now at Vera Cruz, has been ordered to return to the Pacific action. The Sacramento, halted by storm in the Gulf of the Mississippi River, will not return to Vera Cruz.

The battleship Connecticut, Daniels said, would remain for the present in Haitian waters.

ROTTERDAM, Aug. 16 (via London, Aug. 17, 2:54 a.m.)—No point is yielded by the Russians to the advancing Germans until railroad bridges and everything else of military value has been destroyed, according to German reports received here.

The Cologne Gazette admits the difficulties confronting the invaders and says:

"The great area west of the Vistula is held by German troops, who are being supplied by ocean. The Russians are holding the river, and the railroad lines have been destroyed, and the entire area is held by the Germans."

The twenty-sixth Infantry from Matamoros, Mexico, reached the city yesterday, having been sent to the front by the Mexican government.

In the city he had received reports that Mexican forces had been sent into Texas and that they are attempting to gather again in Matamoros, west of Brownsville.

He was arrested because, it is charged, he had no business about military work.

BANDITS TRY TO REORGANIZE.

Details of recent attempts by bandits to reorganize their ranks in the lower Rio Grande Valley were brought here by J. J. Sanders, of Texas Rangers.

In the city he had received reports that Mexican forces had been sent into Texas and that they are attempting to gather again in Matamoros, west of Brownsville.

WASHINGTON ENVOY SEEKS LITTLE HOPE OF PEACE.

American Appeal is Received by the First Chief and the State Department Believes Either He or His Officers will Attend in Meeting.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—The American Consul at Chihuahua reported today that all foreign shops seized by Gen. Villa have been returned to their owners. It is reported Villa will do the same for the native shopkeepers. Villa took possession of the shops on the ground that the merchants were practicing extortion upon the famine-ridden inhabitants. His latest statement in his conference with Maj.-Gen. Scott.

Word that both Gen. Carranza and Villa have received copies of the Pan-American appeal reached the State Department today. From several sources it has been learned that Villa's suggestion of a truce has been favorably received by subordinate officers and soldiers of the Carranza army. There has been practically no fighting in Mexico for several days.

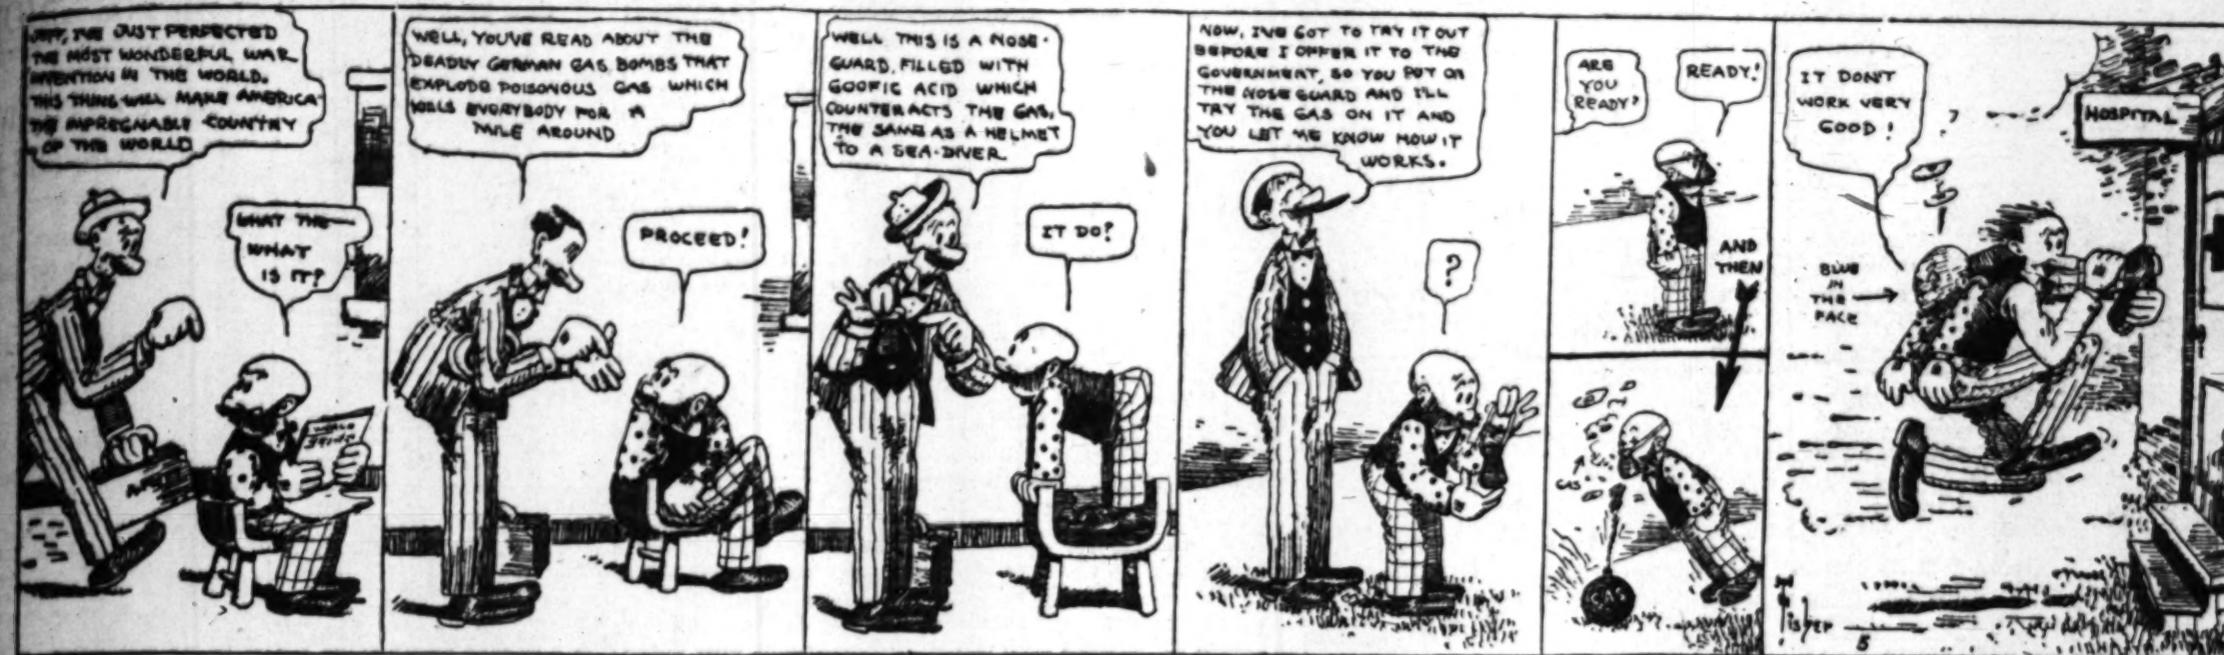

Opportunity knocks, and not in vain, for those who carefully, day after day, read and take advantage of the countless bargains advertised in the "Business Chances" columns in the Times' "limer" section.

In some quarters, however, it is suggested that Carranza may consent to a joint government if held in Mexico City and arranged that representative basis, delegates to be chosen from the various factions in accordance with all revolting factions controlled.

Word was received at the State Department that both Carranza and Villa had received the Pan-American appeal and Chief Clerk Parker of the American embassy staff at Mexico City reported that General Gonzales, the Carranza commander, had promised to conduct to messengers who are to carry the appeal to Gen. Zapata and others. The department announced tonight that no reply had yet been received. PARIS, Aug. 16, 10:30 a.m.—The following communication was issued following communication was issued:

"Violent artillery fighting occurred throughout the day on a great many points of the front.

"Our batteries inflicted on the enemy heavy losses in the region of Queretaro and silenced his fire on the Novaro plateau. Cannon serially damaged the German fortified works to the north of Godat (between Berry-au-Bac and Loivre.)

"The enemy having again shelled St. Die, we opened fire on the gas tanks and blew up the gas tanks.

"We also shelled a German factory to the east of Muenster."

PARIS, Aug. 16.—Thousands of veterans who served in the Army of the Rhine in the war of 1870-71 attended a memorial mass today at the cathedral of Notre Dame, in commemoration of the beginning of the battle of Gravelotte. This battle terminated in the defeat on August 18, 1870, of the French, who, as a result, were shut up in Metz.

The Great War.

GERMANS CROSS THE RIVER BUG.

Prince Leopold is Nearing Brest-Litovsk Forts.

Von Hindenburg is Storming the Kovno Stronghold.

Situation in Balkans Fast Approaching a Crisis.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.) LONDON, Aug. 16.—The left wing of the Bavarian army under Prince Leopold fought its way across the Bug river near Drohobycz which lies to the east of Sokolow, and is some 50 miles northwest of Brest-Litovsk, according to the official Berlin report. This move forms a slight wedge in the Russian front which had been virtually straight since the Warsaw salient was abandoned.

Field Marshal Von Mackensen also is reported to be pushing back the Russians along the Bug, where the Germans are advancing along the eastern bank of the river. Further west Field Marshal Von Hindenburg is credited with a successful attack on the advanced defenses of Kovno, as well as a successful attempt to break the Russian lines between the Narew and the Bug after the Narow river had been crossed by the Germans.

ALL EYES ON BALKANS.

[The forces of the most critical military movement have been yet than the diplomatic negotiations in the Balkans where the crisis has not been reached. The most significant phase of today's news concerned the situation in the Balkans, contained in a brief dispatch from Athens, stating that former Premier Venizelos had won a decisive victory over the government in the organization of the Greek church.

The withdrawal of the Bulgarian delegation from Constantinople caused much speculation here, the consensus of opinion being that Turkey is so confident of her present position that she does not feel under any compulsion to make concessions to Bulgaria's demands.

The usual grenade and mine fighting is reported on the western line and there has been some activity along the eastern front in the Caucasus, but the Russians claim that they have successfully repulsed Turkish attacks.

At Livington on the Rhodesian border in South Africa, a British force, which had been besieged by a German detachment, has now been relieved and is moving on to the front.

"Beast" Butler was none other than Gen. Benjamin F., who coined the phrase contraband as it applied to the runaway black man. Three of Col. Mallory's slaves escaped on the York Peninsula and found refuge within the Union lines commanded by Butler.

Col. Mallory went to Butler and demanded the surrender of his slaves; but he didn't get them. This is what happened:

"They hold," said Gen. Butler, "that negroes are property and do."

Col. Mallory: "You hold."

Gen. Butler: "I am a part of the United States."

"Well," said the general, "you are a part of the United States."

The text of the statement follows:

"A German submarine fired several shells at Parton, Harrington and Whitehaven in Cumberland county, between 4:30 a.m. and 5:30 a.m. to-day, but no material damage was caused.

Daring.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.) PETROGRAD, Aug. 16, (via London).—The following communication was issued tonight:

"In the Bauska district (Courland) the night of August 15 our troops again drove the Germans back toward the river. The enemy's counter-attacks were repulsed. In the Jacobstadt and Dvinsk districts there has been no essential change in the situation.

"The bombardment of Kovno continues with out cessation, the Germans obstinately attacking the fortifications in the western sector.

"Between the Narow and the Bug on the 14th and 15th there was furious fighting. A series of German attacks were repulsed with great loss to the enemy.

"On the left bank of the Bug there have been important engagements.

"In the other sectors on both front there have been local artillery fights but no important engagements."

VENIZELOS WINS VICTORY.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.) ATHENS (Greece) Aug. 16, (via London).—The Greek Chamber of Deputies selected today M. Venizelos as an adherent of former Prime Minister Venizelos, was elected president. M. Venizelos received 182 votes as compared with 92 for the candidate of the government.

SCINTILLATING, HAPPY, YOUTHFUL AND GAY.

Los Angeles Beauties and American "Middies" Have the Floor.

Many Hundreds of Pretty Girls and Nearly a Thousand Naval Men at Brilliant Function Honoring the Letter in Shrine Auditorium—Electrical Pageant and Marching by the Fair Buds.

GE! Where did they get all the pretty girls?" A midshipman in his youthful exuberance, his eyes dilated at the sight of the hundreds of the fairest buds of Los Angeles, many in the costumes in which they had appeared on the electrician, expressed the most sincere admiration of all that was done last night to make the visit of the cadets and their officers one long memorable.

The fact that these pretty girls, many of them very young, were present in doses with these fine American young men, set the symphonic note of youth thrilling through the evening. It was one of the most brilliant, as well as one of the freshest, gayest evenings the community has had the opportunity of viewing or taking part in through the long history of happy hours at Shrine Auditorium. It was a grand night.

To estimate the numbers was impossible save in a vague way. To begin with there were nearly 1000 naval men in their sleek, spick uniforms of dark blue, and a few with gold braid. Then there were just that many girls who came as a part of the entertainment scheme. Added to this were the various social leaders, pillars of society, civic organizations and just folks. Those who got beyond the doorkeepers at the Shrine saw but a small part of the vast number that were drawn by curiosity or desire to witness the electrical pageant which was given a rousing reception by the "middles."

Following this pageant the flood of humanity that could show proper credit to those who had worked inside the auditorium, all made up on the floor, and in the balconies, and then covered the floor so thoroughly that the moment of marching girls was almost lost in view. The parade of beauties was preceded by the welcoming speech of M. H. Royall, president of the Shrine, who told the audience that the purpose of the meeting was introductions very unnecessary and that the home town should take a seat to dance with a smile.

UNDER THE FLAGS. Despite the veritable roof of flags, a host of naval motifs and emblems, but mostly the Stars and Stripes, the surging crush honored and responded to the strains of a great orchestra.

Tired of dancing, the balloons fell to the eye. There under the central apex of King Louis of the Jonathan Club a buffet luncheon was had never before been seen in the city. The corps of waiters directed the hands on the viands and the beverages.

Four-Minute Fullam, delayed on his way to Long Beach, where he had dined with friends, arrived just in time.

Members of the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, War Department, took a look at the eaves of Los Angeles county yesterday and found them in exceedingly bad condition.

They will follow the downspouts to tidewater today and see what effects are to be had from the primary one of protection from the roof is having on the government's $10,000,000 investment in the harbor.

"Our sole reason for being here is the representation of Col. Mal. R. Ray, the district engineer, that an appropriation be made to do work which will protect the harbor from silt," said Col. William Murray Black, president of the board, last night.

Asked if an appropriation may be expected, Col. Black smilingly remarked: "That is a subject on which you will have to consult Congress. Our recommendation and an appropriate are before it."

Col. Black also declined to discuss the county's $16,000,000 flood control project, saying: "It would be unwise for me to make comments. We are simply here to look into the harbor and the effect of the eaves on the water level of both those for and those against the proposed diversion scheme."

Under the guidance of Col. R. R. Raymond, district engineer, members of the Board of Engineers, Charles T. Leeds and Frank H. Olmstad of the recently dissolved county Board of Engineers, spent yesterday motoring over the upper end of the Los Angeles coastal plain.

ODD. CHURCH STOLEN, CRIMES FOUNDER.

Faith Appears Misplaced at Graham Station.

"Mother" Finds Cult of Light Cupboard Sadly Bare.

District Attorney Asks More Evidence for Action.

The historic maneuver of the fellow who moved the bridge at midnight, when there were two moons instead of one, was outdone to a religious certainty at Graham Station, near Watts, when some one is charged with having stolen a church.

Frantic women stormed the District Attorney's office yesterday to swear out a complaint charging embasement of the church but they were sent away for further evidence and promised to appear with it this morning.

Mrs. Frances Fulmer, founder of the Bible Spiritual Church of Light at Graham Station, and founder of the mother church at No. 100 South Hill street, told the District Attorney yesterday that Charles Mulligan, president of the Graham institution, moved all the property worth while away from the sanctuary.

Mr. Mulligan, however, was not present and there is a difference of opinion as to the legal status of what happened. Deputy District Attorney C. L. Woolwine entertained the delegation of women, two police officers and a newspaperman, but asked for more proof before he would charge anyone with a crime.

It so happened that on July 13 Mrs. Fulmer decided to preside over religious services at the Church of Light at Graham Station. She so notified President Mulligan. Then Mrs. Fulmer happened to recall that the Elk's parade would pass the mother church on South Hill street, and she decided to remain there, guard the property and incidentally watch the parade.

The parishioners at Graham Station must have been much disappointed at her failure to appear, for when she noticed Franklin Mulligan, when she would proceed, following Tuesday night he objected, she says.

Two weeks after the night of her first appointment, Mrs. Fulmer says that she went to the church and that she found there was no organ.

She decided to conduct services without that instrument.

Then she discovered there were no hymn books, just at a time when she had pointed out the number of the hymns to be rendered without music.

The song "Without Music" became a

FOR SECRET WITNESSES.

Hidden Stairway from District Attorney's Office to Grand Jury Rooms is Disclosed.

A weight, suspended by a three-strand cable, hangs stiffly from a beam in the roof of the Hall of Records. This weight is a very secret affair. It hangs, but why it hangs—the mystery that is guarded closely.

Beneath this weight is a winding stairway of steel that twists its way upward from a point on the floor behind a self of mystic reports in an inconspicuous room in the District Attorney's office.

This room, which stands in the row of rooms from which a well-worn brain path leads to various court-rooms, is directly beneath the new grand jury room on the south side of the Hall of Records. The stairway that leads silently and ominously upward is not for the general public.

In fact, the general public didn't know it was in existence until one left the door of the room adjacent and then one of Mr. Woolwin's clever maneuvers was uncovered.

Sigh! This stairway is for secret witnesses who were not to be exposed to the news-paper gossips, but who may succeed without publicity and without fear of exposure.

Garment Workers.

ASK POLICE PROTECTION AGAINST UGLY STRIKERS.

THREATS of violence and persistent picketing by striking garment workers led to a call for police protection yesterday afternoon at Katzov & Saks, makers of women's suits, No. 240 South Spring street. An officer was detailed to guard the entrance and disperse picketers.

"Local No. 62, International Ladies' Garment Workers," said H. Ponitz, the manager of the company, "wanted us to sign an agreement that contained a provision that 'no striker shall be discharged without sufficient reason.' But they wouldn't say what they meant by 'a sufficient reason,' so we refused to sign. The walkout followed."

"This has been a union shop," said Joseph Katzov, a member of the firm.

"It is now an open shop for all time. We are done with the union. We were trying to conciliate a number of points in the new agreement with the garment workers' union. But to have our own employees tell us who we could or couldn't discharge is too much."

The trouble, according to Mr. Ponitz, has been brewing for some time. The walkout followed a discussion of an agreement to replace one expiring two weeks ago.

"Trouble was precipitated," said Mr. Ponitz, "by the discharge of an agitator who had been stirring up trouble for us. He was a habitual user of vile language. This discharge brought the whole matter of the discharge stipulation to a head."

"To be brief, all of our workers, thirty of them, both men and women, walked out. Then the men that had been discharged, in back of the building, made a number of threats, and pickets began to accost everyone who entered the building. We immediately asked for police protection."

Mr. Ponitz further stated that the same trouble had followed the expiration of the garment workers' contracts with other concerns and a movement is now under way by the manufacturers to open the shops to all workers, irrespective of affiliation.

"Without exception," said Mr. Ponitz, "the manufacturers had been willing to make wage concessions, and to better working hours. In our case, however, conditions were favorable for the signing of a new agreement until the discharge matter was brought up."

Federation
PEACE SUBJECT OF CATHOLICS.

UNIVERSAL REQUEST TO END
WAR SUGGESTED.

Secretary Matto's Report Appeals for a World-wide Movement of Church Organizations to End Conflict in Europe—Protest Against Mexican Outrages.

(By A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

TOLEDO (O.) Aug. 15.—The second day of the annual convention of the American Federation of Catholic Societies, which began here on Sunday morning, was characterized by the address of President John J. Whalen, L.D.A. His subject was "Peace." In part, he said:

"The Catholic world comes to this convention for that leadership and council which makes the people contented with their station in life and gives assurance beyond any doubt that come what may the Catholics of the country over will never forget this country and their flag."

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

A review of the recent activities of the American Federation of Catholic Societies is contained in the report of Anthony Matto, national secretary, submitted at today's meeting. He recommended that the federation adopt a resolution urging the restoration of peace in Europe and that Catholic organizations the world over be asked to participate in a universal request for peace was contained in the report, which concluded with the announcement that Pope Benedict had granted to all federation members his apostolic benediction.

Affiliated with the federation, the report shows, are thirty national organizations and twenty-five Catholic associations. Many of these national organizations are composed of natives of the countries now at war.

A special committee, the report says, had called upon President Wilson and the Secretary of State and submitted to the latter certified documents disclosing many outrages committed in Mexico against the Catholic church, priests and sisters.

An executive review of the federation's crusade against indecent theatrical performances, moving picture shows, pictures and postcards, also was contained in the report.

In this connection it was reported that the branch federation in St. Louis had impressed $1,925 indecent and suggestive postcards. A number of blacklisted plays, several of which had been reproduced in moving picture form, had been suppressed throughout the country by the federation's activities, it was said, and the introduction of censorship laws in the legislatures of various states was urged.

The report showed that investigations were made to ascertain why the Associated Press failed to disseminate news regarding the persecution of the church in Mexico and the reason for suppressing the name of the Father of the Church, who was given a verdict by a jury for $1500 damages against a bioted paper. Explanatory letters on this matter from the general manager of the Associated Press were presented.

FOREST INCENDIARY.

Many Known says Supervisor of Agencies Reserve who is now Gathering Evidence.

The fact that the recent fire along Lytle Creek was the act of an incendiary has been well established in the mind of Supervisor Charlton, of the Angeles National Forest. Not only that, but the miscreant who started the blaze out of a feeling of revenge is known and evidence against him is being collected.

The damage by the fire outside the fire-breaks is nominal, though considerable time has been burned. The work of putting off the two hundred men engaged as fire-fighters, is now going on, and the expense will aggregate about $3000.

San Bernardino is the headquarters for the most of the fires devastating the Angeles National Forest, and Supervisor Charlton has devised a new scheme to secure volunteer fire-fighters. Heretofore valuable time has been wasted collecting the men. There is no room in the service for the men to help if the need is known, but heretofore much delay has been caused when every minute is important.

To the end that information may be instantaneously known when help is needed, Supervisor Charlton has arranged for the ringing of the city fire bell. Three taps, repeated as often, will be the signal. The new scheme was used for the first time in the Lytle Creek fire, and the men were on hand within five minutes. It will be a permanent arrangement at San Bernardino.

USED ON THE ROADS.

Many of the unemployed put at work by County From December Until June.

It cost $159,519.50 to give work to the unemployed on county highways from December 1, 1914, to June 1, 1915, according to a report made yesterday to the Board of Supervisors by Supervisor Joyner.

While the board provided that this money should be spent on roads, the report shows that in Supervisor Hamilton's opinion the employment was used to remove weeds from parkways and lots in Lamanda Park and Ramona Acres at an expense of $3794 in the former place, where Mr. Hamilton, Supervisor, lives, and $2534 in the latter place.

Some of the more important items of expense in the report are shown to be expenditures on the following highways:

Malibu road, $14,782; Verdugo road, $12,162; Kanan road, $11,210; Pico boulevard, $9982; Santa Monica Canyon, $7841; Harbor truck boulevard, $7617; Brown's Canyon, $2554; Pomona Boulevard, $1852; Culver City streets, $2015.

DEATH-STRICKEN.

Veteran Automobile Dealer Passes in Seventy-fourth Year—Funeral Service Tomorrow.

Bernard Baity, 74 years old, veteran automobile man, died last night at his residence, No. 425 North Kenmore Avenue. Mr. Baity leaves a widow and two sons, Edison T. and Walter R. Baity, and one daughter, Miss Abby H. Baity.

Mr. Baity came to Los Angeles nine years ago from the Middle West, and founded the Baity Bros. Motor Sales Co., taking his two sons into business with him.

Funeral services will be conducted at the residence tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock by Wilshire Lodge, No. 45, F. and A.M. Interment will be in Hollywood Cemetery.

"HAPPY BECAUSE I WISH TO DIE."

MESSAGE TO HER FRIENDS OF SOCIETY WOMAN WHO KILLS HERSELF.

Quietly, without pain and without remorse, death came to Mrs. Lola Hamilton, wife of Dr. J. R. Hamilton, in the California Hospital yesterday. Hours before the end came she said to her physician: "This evening I shall die. I can see the clouds before me. At twilight tonight I shall pass away. My friends I am very happy, for I wish to die."

A quiet session followed, in which her pulse gradually lapsed, and her temperature lowered. Then she passed away.

Her death was the sequel of a sensational shooting two weeks ago after she and her husband had attended a week-end party in a fashionable hotel.

She was taken through the hospital at once, and it was believed she would survive the shock, but resultant complications forbade life, and her passing was without pain.

She was 33 years old. Her death was the result of a bullet wound, as she was prominent in many functions, and was a young woman of unusual vivacity and charm. The home is at No. 1615 Magnolia Avenue. The remains were conducted an inquest over the remains, but signed a certificate of suicide.

CHECK MIX-UP.

Alleged Bankrupt Filing Fee Causes Fresh Trouble—Lawyer Accused of Violating Probation.

United States District Judge Blodoe made an order yesterday striking from the record the bankruptcy petition of Charles C. Campbell, filed July 6. Campbell is a musician and the petition stated that his debts amounted to $1393.95 and his assets to $75.

On the date mentioned a check for the filing fee, $30, was presented by Attorney General N. Gatz. It is said to have been drawn on a bank in the name of which is withheld, in favor of George W. Perkins, an attorney, who at the time had an office in the Union Oil Building. The petition was marked paid.

Later the check was presented for payment at one of the city banks and it came back marked no "funds." Then a hunt was instituted for Mr. Gary, who presented the check, and Mr. Perkins who received it. Mr. Perkins said he gave the money to Mr. Gary to file the petition.

Probation Officer Dodds called at the office of the clerk of the court yesterday and asked for the check.

Mr. Gary had been listed on probation following a plea of guilty on a bad check charge. It is the intention of Mr. Dodds, it is said, to present the check to Judge Craig, with a view to violation of his probation.

It is understood that Mr. Campbell paid the filing fee, and that he is out of the money, as his petition is now off the records.

TAKES LIFE IN PARK.

Body of Self-destroyer, Believed to be Russian, is Found by Party of Anti-Asiatics.

With a revolver clutched in one hand and a copy of a London newspaper in the other the body of a man believed by the police to be Max Sond, a Russian, was found in Elysian Park early last night with a bullet hole through the head.

The body was discovered seated at the foot of a large palm tree near the Broadway entrance of the park by L. Gibbs of No. 311 West Thirty-third Street, N. Y. A. Month of No. 1417 North Broadway, as they were passing in an automobile.

After an investigation by the police the remains were removed to the Paul morgue, where a card bearing the name of Max Sond was found in one of the vest pockets of its clothing.

According to the police the dead man was about 25 years of age, 150 pounds, and 5 ft. 8 in. in height. The suit he wore was a dark blue, with black shoes and a gray felt hat. The police declared it was a case of suicide.

CHICAGO MEN HERE.

Party of Prominent Figures in Windy City Making Tour of State by Auto.

Under the guidance of Edward Chambers, vice-president of the Santa Fe, a party of prominent business men and politicians of Chicago is touring the State by auto. The party includes Roger Sullivan, foremost politician of the middle west, ex-major Hopkins, who is one of the largest manufacturers in the Windy City; J. Connery, Cook county Recorder, and others. T. A. Riordan, the lumber magnate, is also in the party.

The tourists will visit San Diego and are staying at the Alexandria. The motorists will leave early today for Santa Barbara.

Although all of the members of the party have been on their first trip through the urban parts of the State. Last night they were unanimous in declaring that the trip was far more interesting than the European tour they had taken, and all declared their intention of returning at an early date.

JAILED AS PERJURER.

Young Italian Held in Default of Heavy Bond—Attorney Not Implicated in Charges.

Henry Dasso, who was arrested for alleged perjury in a damage suit brought by the widower and heirs of Adelia Elliott against the Los Angeles Railway Company, was sent to the County Jail yesterday in default of $3000 bail. He is accused of having given false testimony that trial. He was arraigned before Justice Forbes and his preliminary was set for Thursday.

Police officers, who say they have procured a confession from Dasso, declare he in no way implicated E. B. Drake, the attorney who represented the plaintiffs in the damage action. Attorneys for the railway company, however, informed the District Attorney's office that there is not the slightest intimation of a connection between the act alleged to have been committed by Dasso and the work performed by the attorney.

BANKRUPTCY MATTERS.

Sewer Pipe Company Object of an Attack by Creditors—Salesman and Wine Company "Broke."

The California Hardware Company, Blake, Moffit & Towne, the Southern California Gas Company and the Central Iron Works filed a joint petition yesterday, alleging that the Independent Sewer Pipe Company is insolvent and that the corporation is doing business in the Southern California Gas Company leading with a bill for $14,320.02. They asked that the corporation be declared bankrupt. W. H. Moore, Jr., was appointed receiver by the court, with a bond of $500.

Louis A. Hart, a salesman, filed a petition in bankruptcy yesterday. His indebtedness, nearly all contracted in Minnetonka, amounts to $2075, and his assets are given as $950.

David A. and Lizzie L. Garra, conducting the Ocean Beach Wine Company at San Diego, also filed a bankruptcy petition. The debts are scheduled at $4350, and the assets at $1455.90.

UNDELIVERED TELEGRAMS.

Visiting members of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers arrived early yesterday and were met by the local branch of the society and escorted to the Clark. In the morning the visitors, accompanied by several prominent local chemists, visited the refinery and the oil-burner plant. Inspectors of the oil-burner plant near the harbor.

WILLIE HEAR OIL CASES?

Supreme Court Denies Damages Awarded on Statement only of Company Employee.

The Supreme Court has reversed the judgment of former Superior Judge Hutton, in refusing a new trial to the defendant corporation in a suit brought by Mrs. E. Willard, Charles E. Willard, her husband, and the London Assurance Corporation against the Valley Gas and Fuel Company, to recover $12,000 that the oil company had taken from the oil fields near Pasadena and destroyed by fire following an explosion of gas caused by the negligence of an agent of the gas and fuel company. The jury in the lower court found for the oil company.

It is more than possible that Judge Van Fleet will hear the famous oil cases brought by the government against corporations and individuals, and in particular a large area of valuable oil territory in the State, that it is alleged by the government, has been procured by fraud. It is being alleged that the land was secured by the Southern Pacific Railroad Company representing that the land was non-mineral in character. An effort was made some time ago to consolidate these cases, almost a dozen in number, and Judge Blodoe set September 7 as the date when he should hear further testimony in that regard, he in the meantime, ordering such a move. It was claimed that it was error for the trial court to admit evidence of the statement of Mills, made to Mrs. Willard, that "he had turned over the wrong pipe," that such fact would bankrupt half of the oil companies and individuals who are parties to the defense.

If the cases are not consolidated, it is estimated that they will be held by such an act by an agent.

DEATH ABOARD.

When they arrived from San Francisco my ship had obscured the sun. The death of Midshipman Tom McCarthy, who had been sickly ever since his arrival on Sunday, caused a peculiar case. It was his case to assert that the three ships lay at more than an hour on the voyage to Los Angeles while serum was used from the ship's stores. A consultation of surgeons was arranged without avail, and he died yesterday morning. His commanding officer and all the honors possible were given him before the body was sent ashore pending arrival of some relatives in Chattanooga.

In several of the harbor the midshipmen were brought in special passenger trains to Los Angeles and were taken to University City, where they were provided with all the comforts afforded, even to the extent of four hundred of the boys having an opportunity to appear in one of

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.
CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.

(At Home:) Evidences of material prosperity are shown in the wild desire to acquire securities of large manufacturing concerns, particularly those making war supplies. Investors are paying 20 points higher than a week ago for these securities, with the demand still unsatisfied. The transactions in these stocks overshadow all else in the markets. Foreign exchange dropped to the lowest mark in the history of our financial system, which means the purchasing power of the American dollar is now more than ever before. Local bank clearings were $600,000 more than a year ago.

(Abroad:) Italy has given notice of a naval credit of $15,000,000. In Paris, the government will place defense bonds, of small denominations, on sale at postoffices. (For details, see financial pages.)

KNOWLEDGE ABROAD.
With educators from eighteen countries attending an exposition at Oakland, we shouldn't be surprised if considerable information escapes in that locality during the next week.WHERE THE BLAMES BEDROG.
A Congressman criticizes our sailor men and officers because they are such poor shots. We would rather he had criticized Congress for its failure to provide the navy with anything to shoot with.UNDETERMINABLE STRATEGY.
London again assures the world that Russia is retreating for strategic reasons. Yes, we suspect it is, but to us the strategy is quite obvious. It is merely to keep as many Russians alive and at large as long as possible.T WISTED VIEWPOINT.
We hear of a man who has been disappointed in a friendship because it cost him too much. He has the wrong view for moderation. People today never ask what their friends cost them, but how much they may be made to pay.HOW ABOUT YOURSELF?
We wonder if the people who do things the way they do them because somebody is looking at them, we'd appreciate the same conduct if there was no eye upon them? This is a dangerous speculation because it might lead to the discovery of the Hague convention of 1899.BOMBASTES FURIOSO IS FOR WAR.
B Villa is for peace and reconstructed Mexico. Zapata is for peace and renewed prosperity. Carranza is for peace, provided he can continue in office. But Gen. Jesus Maria Bombastos Furioso Gonzales is for war with the United States and the whole of South America if any attempt is made by anybody at intervention—military, political or benevolent—or interference in any way with the sacred and inalienable rights of Mexicans to rob foreigners and cut each other's throats over a division of the plunder. Gen. Gonzales has nailed his foot-covers to the door of his headquarters and under them has fastened the classic motto: "Whoever dares these boots displace Must meet Bombastos face to face."RUSSIA'S GREAT SICKNESS.

We congratulate the Burbank Thespians on an excellent production of "The Yellow Ticket" at this time. Such an indictment against Russia does not establish the wickedness of the whole nation, but it does tend to show some of the political viciousness of those in power in Russia, and it does reveal a condition that must be eradicated before there will be any health in that domain. If the present dynasty survives, it will only be through the cure of such diseases as now corrupt the body politic. Whatever happens to Russia through this war or through future wars, one thing is certain, the Russians must have light and freedom, and all people there must have justice and equality, regardless of blood or opinion.

DISCOVERING LOS ANGELES.

The Mayor of Yuma came to Los Angeles yesterday. Mayor Charles Moore at 57 has the luck to look 33 and that speaks well for dry climate. Of course, since the Laguna Dam turned its golden stream upon the valleys of Bard and of Yuma, the country looks anything than dry, even when an August sun is at its zenith.

What we started to remark, however, was not the improvement of Yuma under Mayor Moore's wise administration, but the improvement of Los Angeles under Mayor Moore's long observation. You see, Mr. Moore visited Los Angeles exactly forty years ago and at that time not half of the 800,000 people here were Americans. Yesterday he said he thought he would ride down to Venice, Ocean Park and Santa Monica as some of the people he knew here forty years ago had talked about laying some sort of a townsite out at Santa Monica. Then he laughed and explained that it wasn't just hearsay with him, but that he knew for a fact that they had carried their threat out as he had taken many a cool dip down there in the intervening years. We envy Mr. Moore's experience of having watched this delightful city's growth from almost the very start, and it wouldn't surprise us a bit with his health and energy if he did not continue his observations for another forty years. In that case, when he comes to town forty years hence, we shall send one of our brightest young men to interview him on Los Angeles eighty years ago.

PAN-AMERICAN LEAGUE.
It may not be denied that for many years the attitude of the South American republics toward the United States was far from being as friendly as it should have been. The tendency of Latin America was to trade with Europe rather than the United States, and our neighbor efforts to establish relations of cordial friendship were received with suspicion and distrust.

Elihu Root, when Secretary of State, made a trip to the Latin republics and was received with cold courtesy. Secretary Knox made a similar trip, but failed to break the ice of South American reserve.

During our war with Spain to free Cuba, Latin America insisted that the ultimate object of the United States was to annex Cuba, and notwithstanding our aiding Cuba to set up and maintain an independent government, there was a lurking suspicion in the Latin-American mind that sooner or later the time for annexation would arrive.

Our customhouse policy in Santo Domingo was regarded as a renewal of the effort made by Gen. Grant in 1870 to secure the annexation of that island.

Last year signaled the disappearance of much of the South American prejudice against the United States. At the A.R.C. conference the representatives from Argentina, Brazil and Chile were fully convinced of the good faith of the United States, and that we did not seek to acquire a rod of Mexican territory, or anything but the advantages which Mexico, as well as the United States, would obtain from a restoration of peace and order in that distracted land.

A conference of representatives of the leading Latin-American countries began yesterday at Washington, with the avowed purpose of forming a league of all the nations of North and South America for mutual defense and commercial intercourse, and, incidentally, to recommend a plan of peace for Mexico.

There was a Pan-American conference held in Washington in October, 1889. It was presided over by James G. Blaine. Congress had passed an act authorizing the President to invite the several Latin-American governments to this conference. The objects specified for this conference were measures for keeping the peace, a customs union, improved means of communication between all the American countries, the adoption of a common silver coin, uniform weights and measures, patent rights, copyrights and trademarks. All the countries sent delegates except Santo Domingo. No distinct plan was formulated by it, but it aided to promote friendly feelings between our southern neighbors and ourselves.

At the suggestion of President McKinley the second Pan-American conference was summoned by President Diaz of Mexico. It met at the City of Mexico, October 22, 1901, and continued in session over two months. The principal topic was arbitration. Ten delegates were in favor of compulsory arbitration and affixed their signatures for a project to that effect. But a majority of the delegates agreed to become parties to the Hague convention of 1899.

The third Pan-American conference assembled at Rio Janeiro, July 21, 1906, and continued in session until August 21. In this convention all American countries were represented except Haiti and Venezuela. This convention was addressed by Elihu Root. It voted to instruct delegates at the Hague to secure a general arbitration convention "as effective and definite as to merit the approval of the civilized world," that should be "accepted and put into force by every nation."

The fourth Pan-American convention met at Buenos Aires in 1910. It endorsed the action of its predecessors and agreed to arbitrate all financial disputes that could not be settled by diplomacy.

The Times entertains hopes that the representatives of Latin America who recently assembled will formulate a successful plan for putting an end to Mexican anarchy. If this can be accomplished the road will be open for an American peace league that will be, so far as the Americas are concerned, a government of governments, which may develop into a government of governments of the world.

CONSCRIPTION IN ENGLAND.

If Great Britain adopts conscription it will be one of the ironical outcomes of the war. For Great Britain was out to fight militarism, and there has been no greater scorn of the conscript soldier than in the United Kingdom. When Lord Roberts, her greatest little soldier of modern times, advocated national service, he aroused a storm of fire and the newspapers flooded the country with anti-conscription editorials, upholding the sublime wisdom of the voluntary system, freedom, liberty, all the things which we of these United States have taught to hold dear.

Bonar Law, the leader of the Conservative party in Great Britain, said in a speech a few days ago, that a Federal Parliament of the Empire was bound to be the outcome of the war; as the overseas dominions had proved their loyalty and their strength so remarkably in this crisis, when the enemy counted so confidently on their dereliction, that there can be no question about them having a voice in the government of the empire of the future.

And two of those dominions, New Zealand and Australia, contents in themselves, already have a system of national service. South Africa has it in all but name, for in the Boer war every Boer and every Englishman capable of carrying a rifle looked upon it as plain duty to fight. It is rare to find a man in South Africa who is not used to firearms and prepared to use them.

Canada, too, has shown herself amenable to conscription arguments. India is the one portion of the empire that is unlikely to come under the conscription scheme, for England still distrusts the advisability of arming those millions of native Indians in a country which she holds largely by prestige and moral suasion. Yet there are advocates of high standing, like Lord Morley, who consider that India can safely be trusted now, that not only is a larger measure of self-government due, but that she would prove a happier and healthier portion of the empire with a greater measure of independence and responsibility.

If England adopts compulsory national service, the United States will be the only great power retaining the voluntary system. It will be interesting to see whether the strong peace movement in this country, supported largely by the women, can prevent us falling into line. The singing of the popular song, "I Did not Raise my Boy to be a Soldier," meets with a storm of ap-

NONPARTISAN BUREAUCRACY.

A NIGHTMARE OF 1915.
By Harry Bowring.

Old man Fuertes was naturally affected by the disappointment of his son, Nonne.

"This thing has been growing upon us since the State of California abolished party government twenty years ago. That started us on the road to nowhere. It was the political device of a certain Governor—I forgot his exact name—Hiram Jackson or Maxim Johnson—anyhow, some kind of a son of a gun—and he got a so-called nonpartisan bill passed to establish bureaucracy in California; and then began the abolishing era which threatens to terminate in the abolition of the grand old State itself."

Young Nonne was listening to his parent's harangue in dreamy indifference. "I don't care continental about Jackson or Johnson or what happened twenty years ago," he said. "But it's rotten treatment I'm getting. Here have I worked hard to get a diploma and earned five additional credits and the Board of Education informs us now that diplomas have been abolished by a special order from Sacramento as the granting of them causes dissatisfaction to certain labor leaders."

"I'm sorry for you," said the older man sympathetically. "You deserved a diploma—but things might be worse. At least you have the knowledge you gained in working for it. Before long they intend to abolish all grades of teaching that will enable one lad to learn or earn more than another. You know the legal working day in California has just been reduced to one hour, forty-eight minutes and twelve seconds. But work is naturally at a discount."

"They have political parties and sensible laws still in other States," grumbled Nonne.

"Because I love the old State," said his father, his eyes filled with tears. "Because there is no other spot on earth so beautiful or where life could and should be lived so fully and so richly; and because I remember California as it was before it was blighted by a nonpartisan bureaucracy."

Old man Fuertes wiped his glasses and replaced them on his nose.

"Now, my boy, you mustn't be discouraged. I have seen changes in California that at your age I thought impossible. By the time you are my age the pendulum will have swung back again."

Young Nonne was listening to that from that Persian Gulf district, which was as desolate as when it was a desert as 10-year-old school children before the 1906 earthquake. "What's the use?" he asked. "Should they remain from plucking (and sucking) the precious plum that hangs so easily and temptingly within their grasp?"

Suppose, for instance, that this war would cease, what is to become of Nonne? "Because I love the old State," said his father, his eyes filled with tears.

"How to Treat a Chaperon" is an article in a current magazine.

What will she take?

Our Unpreparedness.

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 15.—[To the Editor of The Times:] If the people of the United States were told that Mr. Wilson would be ever the last President who would ever elect, they would never believe it was the state of a lunatic, yet to the thoughts of most this would seem to be not only possible, but even a probable supposition.

There are now passing, between the heads of government, of this country, England and Germany, called "diplomatic documents" (called notes) regarding certain circumstances which are assuming a tone most strained and apparently are being strained by the foreign powers with a view to embroil and eventually bring us into war. In the view of our government, it is possible that this may be done to escape that disaster which would otherwise befall us at a subsequent period.

Ancient and recent history plainly show that war may be entered upon that will be decided (and declared afterward) on the slightest cause, or none at all.

Every nation now engaged in the present trouble and some that are not actively in it are pressing need of money, and this is the reason why the one nation in all the world that has the most abundant supply of gold and silver is California.

They have no longer any abundant supply of gold and silver, and the one nation that has the most abundant supply of gold and silver is California.

Oklahoma is to have a $1,000,000 house. Now Al Jennings can see no loss in coming away—and also by elected Governor.

The officials of the San Francisco section will arrange a day when Ohio's son may attend the show in a body. They require a lot of room.

The deficit in the Postoffice Department is large enough for four years. The crop of mulberries in the state is not larger than ever, and the price of mulberries is high.

There are no longer any abandoned houses in Connecticut. It is officially stated that due to advertising. And advertising anything.

The officials of the San Francisco section will arrange a day when Ohio's son may attend the show in a body. They require a lot of room.

The alleged site of the Garden of Eden in the Persian Gulf district, has had no excitement since an unexpected drop in our first poison.

Educators have instituted model schools in Kentucky. This will give moonshiners and the horsemanship of Claiborne a chance to get an education.

We would have but a mob of civilians to oppose them, if reports are true concerning our own standing army, and the fewer we had the better for them and the nation, as they would be much safer outside a university.

Those who demand an armistice now may be disappointed. We would have but a mob of civilians to oppose them, if reports are true concerning our own standing army, and the fewer we had the better for them and the nation, as they would be much safer outside a university.

Then again, if England, also in England and jealous of Germany, should as an army in Canada, and invade it, it would be a case of dividing and conquering again, when this country would be introduced to such scenes as are transpiring in Europe, and wars would never cease, devastation being the chief source of danger does not attack by water.

Ancient and recent history plainly show that war may be entered upon that will be decided (and declared afterward) on the slightest cause, or none at all.

MOVEMENTS IN SOCIETY.

THEIR innumerable friends will learn with great interest of the approaching marriage of Miss Mathilde F. Bartlett, the lovely daughter of the Rev. Dr. J. L. French, pastor of the Southern Presbyterian church, and is a first cousin of Mrs. Bartlett's. As a young man, Rev. French held the pastorate of the Presbyterian church of El Segundo, the babies of which were born within a mile of each other, being staunch childhood playmates. When Dr. French moved South they were parted and did not meet again until they were grown.

The wedding will be held for September 7, at the beautiful hour of sunset, and is to be solemnized in the spacious Fenton Knoll garden, beneath a canopy of green trees and the Southern California blue heavens. The garden is the scene of the bride's city, with a velvety sward and splendid variety of foliage and flowers, furnishing a natural background of bewitching beauty. Only the relatives and closest friends will be present to attend the nuptial service for the Bartletts are still in mourning for Mr. Bartlett, who died eleven months ago.

Dr. French, who baptised Miss Bartlett, is coming from Florida to marry her to his son. The nieces of Mr. W. S. Bartlett, the Misses Mariett of Evansville, Ind., are coming to attend the bride, and Miss Marie Olivia McCoy will be maid of honor.

Cards are being issued today for the wedding, which will at once be showered with hearty felicitations upon the happy culmination of a pretty romance, started in childhood days.

At Mt. Washington. A pleasant social happening was had at Mt. Washington Hotel on Wednesday afternoon last, when Mrs. Alice Riviere of West Thirty-first street gave a luncheon to her card club in the nature of a farewell, as she is leaving shortly to visit the tropics.

The guests were seated at a round board in the spacious dining room, with twelve covers. A large rustic basket filled with pink roses and trailing sweet honeysuckles furnished a pretty decoration.

During the afternoon cards were played, high scores being made by Mrs. Riviere and Mrs. Charles V. Roquist, while consolations fell to Mrs. Charles Robie Bean and Mrs. Jack Thompson. Other guests present were Madames Thomas Jones, Clifford Schroer, Robert W. Thompson, Edwin Crable, George H. Cornell, George David, C. S. Falkenstein and Henry Knight.

A lunch punch was served. Mrs. Bean is entertaining the club tomorrow at her pretty beach home in Venice. She has planned an informal porch party and al fresco luncheon for her guests.

For the Morrow. At her home at No. 715 Gramercy Park, Mrs. Mildred Barker is giving a dancing party tomorrow night complimentary to Miss Chloe Snyder, a member of the younger set who will make her bow to society the coming season.

The honoree has just returned from a two-weeks' motoring trip in Northern California.

Fifteen couples have been asked.

Zobelein's seventieth birthday, and to commemorate his arrival in California nine years ago.

The guests came garbed in the style of pioneer, Indian chieftains, miners, Indians and cowboys, caballeros and their Spanish beauties, and even gamblers who added to the excitement of the affair.

At 6:30 o'clock a typically Spanish band was gathered in the open, the guests being seated in the rose arbor at a long board, fairly groaning with good viands. A stringed orchestra dispensed soft ballads. Mrs. Charles Liechty gave Spanish songs, and Phil Zobelein Spanish dances—all adding immensely to the enjoyment of the affair.

A dance pavilion was erected among the lofty pines, and dancing was enjoyed later.

BY GRACE KINGSLEY.

Allan Dinehart and company, Nan Halperin, Gus Edwards. There they all are in the top line, just to show there's no hard feeling. It's a toss-up which one of the trinity Orpheum headliners one talks about first.

Gus Edwards had quite a bunch of pink thoughts when he conceived the idea of that new Song Revue of 1915. Also, Ponce de Leon had nothing on Gus Edwards when he went prospecting for youth. When he went prospecting for them younger every year, and "The Fountain of Youth in Six Spouts," contains some girls very much toward the kindergarten.

The act is pretty, melodious, and the "spouts" each very sparkling, indeed. It opens with "The Song Farm," and all the boys in robe makeup and all the girls in miniskirts and hairribbons, and some very good harmony is made. After "Musical Marmalades," in which Betty Washington sings some good music from her violin, Gus Edwards puts over a Chauvinist song, "I'm a Westerner," and then Olcott sings another, "I'm a Westerner," in pajamas and nighties, doing some suave good-night stunts, and finally retiring after some novel shadow picture effects of animals, and the like.

The programme ends with "The Guards," a march by the Guards. The girls are the prettiest child that Artist Harrison Fisher ever saw. Certainly she is the most delicious combination of innocence and art that ever happened. Greatly improved over a Chauvinist drawing, the ambition received just enough encouragement to keep it flickering.

The first duty of every one who comes to the theater is to be given an introduction to people who can write well. If you get ten cents a word for your stories and know not the city editor of the exclusive Tribune, or the poet who gained fame during the day so that they may study drawing, law, music, or sociology nights. They live in hall bed-rooms. The High Grade Bohemians keep up the price of studies by paying extra rent, and usually receive some incomes besides compensation for their artistic labors. Very frequently the additional income is alimony.

The Westerner met the H. G. B.'s with her best frock and an ornate handbag. She is a Westerner who grew famous by advocating Malthisianism.

She liked a pretty young suffragette newspaper woman whose franky commercial instincts made a marked contrast to an amateur who was lavishly supported by her millionaire dad and gloried in her "art

HARNESS HORSES SET WONDERFUL NEW RECORDS

Speed.
LEE AXWORTHY WINS FEATURE.

Trots Wonderful Race After Losing the First.

Peter Volo Clatters a Fast
Mile in 2:02.

William Wins the Pacing Championship.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
CLEVELAND (O.) Aug. 16.—Lee Axworthy and William were crowned respectively trotting and pacing kings today, following two of the most sensational match races witnessed by the horse world in years today at the North Randall track.

THREE HEATS.—Lee Axworthy battled three heats before defeating Peter Volo, while William won his race with Director I, in two straight heats. World's records took the count as a result of the afternoon's exhibition.

Cleveland backers of the Axworthy horses, owned by the Pastime Stables here, and driven by Billy Andrews, were well rewarded for their confidence, as Peter Volo was the favorite in the action pools. Both matches were for purses of $5000.

REAL SPEEDER.—

In the first heat of the Axworthy-Volo contest, the latter trotted the mile in 2:02, tying the world's steeplechase record held by The Marquis and crossing a new record for a four-year-old stallion. In the next two heats Axworthy won in 2:01½ and 2:01¾, making an average time for a threeheat race, 2:01 1-8, a new world's record.

William, in the first heat of the pace, went around in 1:58½, another world's record for a five-year-old pacing stallion.

ANOTHER.—

His second heat in 2:00 was another world's steeplechase record and his combined average time of 1:58½ is a world mark for a five-year-old pacer.

William also smashed the local track record of 2:01½ and pocketed the fastest heat of 1:58.

Lee Axworthy lost the first heat of the trot by a shade.

FAST START.—

In the second, Andrews rushed Axworthy out at the start, took the pole and sent Peter Volo to a break. The latter expended so much energy closing up the gap on the back stretch that the home stretch found him spent. The third heat was easy for Axworthy.

William won his race handily, keeping the lead from the turn in each heat and maintaining it all around.

POP BOTTLES OUT OF DATE.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) Aug. 16.—To prevent the recurrence of pop-bottle attacks on umpires at the local National League baseball park, such as was made from the bleachers against Umpire Byron in the game with Chicago yesterday, President Schuyler F. Britton of the local Nationals, announced today that henceforth no soda water will be sold to the bleachers.

The sale of soda will continue in the grand stand as the fans there did not participate in the attack on Byron. Although hundreds of bottles and vegetables were hurled at him, the umpire escaped uninjured.

BOSTON, Aug. 16.—Clarks Griffith, manager of the Washington American League team, will appear as a member of the Boston Nationals for several minutes when the team plays its first game on Braves' Field next Wednesday. President James E. Gaffney of the Braves announced tonight that Griffith would pitch the first ball in the game with St. Louis and that Manager George P. Stallings of the Braves would catch. It will count officially as a ball or strike, he said. Griffith, a former pitcher, and Stallings, a catcher in other years, are close friends.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
CLEVELAND, Aug. 16.—Detroit took both games from Cleveland today, 8 to 2 and 8 to 1. Not a hit was made by Boland in the second game until there were two out in the ninth inning. Then Ben Faschell, a recruit from Alabama, batting for Pitcher Hagerman, singled cleanly over second, robbing Boland of a no-hit game. Wamborgans two errors, both miffs of thrown balls, gave Detroit all of its three runs. Cleveland's one run was scored by Chapman, who was hit with a pitched ball, stole second, took third on a passed ball, and home on a bad throw by Bush. Walker's one bad injury gave Detroit its victory in the first game.

Kennedy and Jonah outdone

By Lynne Sinker.

Nearly everyone is complaining about poor fishing just at the present time. Local enthusiasts are insisting that the water animals have all been caught. Many people complain that there are lots of fish but they won't bite. Some argue that the season is a thing of the past. The funny part of the matter is, that everyone who really goes fishing comes back with plenty of fish.

Charles Kolb of the famous Kolb and Hill Company set out for Little Bear Lake a few days ago with very violent intentions. He swore that he would bag a nice mess of fish before he came home if it took him all the rest of this year to do it. He armed himself with some very light tackle, because the less there is to carry around the better Kolb likes it.

A good many friends warned Charles that lightweight tackle was not the best thing for Little Bear fishing. You have to fish deep at the lake if you wish to get the results and it takes a pretty heavy outfit to land some of the stuff. However—

Kolb went out the first morning and returned in a short time with the limit. He caught one seven-pound beauty and four others down. And he did all this on a line that wasn't supposed to hold a good-sized minnow.

Herbert Wilson and Phil Brockley just returned from the Little Bear and report fishing to be first class. They succeeded in bringing into camp a number of large-sized specimens every day and were very well pleased with the sport. The only kick they have coming in the number of people around the lake. They say that there are about three thousand to every fish in the Little Bear region.

L. N. Best and J. F. Powers are planning a trip to Owens River and Silver Lake. These two gentlemen are going to try to find some new fishing ground and they think the Ocean-side Hornby Harbor, Anheim and Sandusky and the beach near Santa Barbara are all favored with first-class fishing. Surf fish seem to be running the best and these can be hooked either in the evening or early morning.

Curtis Claussen, Fred Rose and Paul Wolf are responsible for the statement that there are plenty of fish at Del Rey. Spots are biting all the time and they are as large as four pounds. Yellowtail and croakers are biting the same as usual.

Oceanside, Hornby Harbor, Anheim and Sandusky and the beach near Santa Barbara are all favored with first-class fishing. Surf fish seem to be running the best and these can be hooked either in the evening or early morning.

Three Dartmouth students cross continent.

Come by Way of St. Louis, Kansas City and the Desert—Find the latter Hot in the Daytime and Cool at Night—To Return by Way of Sierra Nevada and Salt Lake.

Three Dartmouth College men—two of them graduates and the other a senior—have motored from New York City and are now on their way to the exposition in San Francisco.

THE TRAVELERS

They are Horton L. Chandler, son of the managing editor of the Concord Evening News and the Independent Statesman, and grandson of ex-Senator William E. Chandler of New Hampshire; Lehard F. Spore of Sandusky, O., whose father owns a large interest in the American Crayon Company, and Takanao Mitsui of Tokio and New York. They started on their trip July 1. They hope to get back to their homes and business early in October. Morton Chandler will only return with them as far as Chicago, catching the train there for Dartmouth College.

The young motorists came west as far as Tucson on the Lincoln highway and then struck south through St. Louis and Kansas City. They crossed the desert when it was blazing hot. They traveled most of it by night, sleeping in the daytime at Rawlins and Cheyenne.

COOT ENOUGH

Horton Chandler said yesterday that it was cool enough then that in the daytime it was like driving against the blasts of a furnace. The roads were good, except for occasional chuckholes. They made good time by the aid of their headlights. They came in from San Francisco a week, just long enough to look at the exposition and then return home by way of the Sierra Nevada, Salt Lake City and Cheyenne.

THE START

The trip had a novel beginning. The three Dartmouthers came the day after graduation. They had been college goods. Spore and Mitsui were saying good-by to their college days and Chandler that they would California after the stiff college year. They needed a vacation after the stiff college year. The other two asked, "Why not?" So they went down to New York City and bought a "Master Six" Chalmers and started out.

They have tried to make their trip an outing as much as possible. Most of the nights they have built a camp by the side of the road and slept under the stars. Sometimes night overtook them in some city and they were enough to seek a hotel and sleep there.

COMMUNITY

They have bought everything during the trip on the community plan. They even all chipped in on the automobile. In fact, they got it so cheaply that they can set it for it on their return and split three ways. They have been exceptionally lucky on their trip across the continent. They have had no engine trouble of any kind and they have had no mechanical trouble. They have had to adjust them oftener, however.

"The only way to come to California," said Horton Chandler, "is by automobile. It makes a big joyous vacation. It is a great way that I started a little later so that I did not have to leave them in Chicago."

The Canadian Association of Amateurs of Pennsylvania has noted the State over $800,000 in the last two years.

Football Mentor Departs for North.

Going to Exposition in Great Style.

Will go East and be with Kelly.

Coach Kelly, the Carlisle coach, left for Phoenix last night. He is going north with his wife and son, Walter, commissioner of the exposition, who will be at the exposition, and will stay two days in the city and then catch a train for home. He has received reports from Carlisle that the prospects are good for the team at Carlisle for a strong finish.

A NEW ONE.

Coach Kelly begins the new regime at Carlsbad. He is the first American coach to make changes of athletics there. He comes and spent one year teaching football at the Indian school, the rest of his time at the university, where he had the rank of captain of his varsity team.

An assistant coach, Gus Walsh, will take over the Indians from Carlisle in the fall. He is one of the greatest gridiron players that ever came from Carlisle.

CARD TRADE FOR CORHAN AND SCHMIDT HANGS FIRE.

BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Aug. 16.—Negotiations for the sale of Roy Corhan and Walter Schmidt to the big leagues are still going on. The Seals will lose two more players.

Ira Colwell was sent to Vancouver on an agreement that if he was not sold to the big league he would revert to the Yanks, as is present in the Northwest to look over the youngster who has burned up the league. Johnny Couch had been recalled from Galveston in the Texas League, but the White Sox are a string on him and will pull it at the first sign he went great guns in the hot weather.

With Bobby Jones and Harry Heilmann already lined up by Detroit, it will leave the Seals in rather bad shape to meet the Angels.

However, Schmidt's agent, Manager W. J. Johnson, however, declares that he is going to get plenty of players, and there is a good chance that both Jones and Heilmann will be retained.

VERNON WEEKLY BOUTS TONIGHT.

JACK DOYLE TO STAGE SIX BOXING MATCHES AT HIS SMOKER.

The weekly smoker of the Vernon A.C. takes place at Jack Doyle's Arena tonight, commencing at 8:30 o'clock sharp.

The card arranged is in a good one and some very good contests should result.

The main event will find Harry Atwood meeting the clever and hard-hitting newsboy champion Johnny Armento.

There will be two special events, the first between Frankie Dolan of the L.K.O.C. and Danny Solomon. As these boys boxed a draw at the last meeting, they were rematched this evening. Both will be in top condition. The second will find Battling Chico, who has been after Ralph Lincoln so persistently, has finally landed a match. If he does half he says he will, the Vernon A.C. boy will have no chance.

Eddie Martin, who means Roy Doan of the Boyle Heights A.C. will be a contest of the clever kind and should be a close one.

Dick Brown, a new one out Vernon way, will hook up with clever Jimmy Arroyos, while Walter Ehle vs. Joe Gill will furnish the curtain raiser.

There will be special car service and reserved seats available and their secretary, Frank Harlow, will handle the arrangements.

The judges will be Billy Cox, Fred Mace and Harry Carter.

FEDERAL TAKE OPENING SHOT.

TEBEAU'S INJUNCTION SUIT IS DISMISSED BY THE COURT.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) Aug. 16.—The suit brought by George Tebeau, owner of the Kansas City American Association team, to restrain Federal League agents from making offers to his players, was dismissed in Judge Johnson's division of the Circuit Court here today. Tebeau's attorneys said a new suit would be filed immediately.

Revolver and Rifle Club Plays Host.

BY EDWARD C. CROSSMAN.

When eight good looking midshipmen and a wise fox of a lieutenant commander go down in the lower story of a battleship and dig out some New Springfields from the ship's stores, which they have never seen before, and go ashore on a strange island, the spectators and the champion ride club to a margin of sixteen points over two ranges, that isn't much comfort in the story for the rifle club, is there?

Also when one of the midshipmen, a fresh-faced member of the Massachusetts Rides Team, lands high individual place for the two teams, with but two points dropped out of the possible 160, it does not look as if the team could be beaten, and any acquaintance with their rifles is shoot to hell.

The final story of the bullet-proof locals have ever had on hand.

TACOMA (Wash.) Aug. 15.—New records were established by professional motorcycle racers on the Tacoma latitude speedway here. Eddie Armstrong, of the Coast, won the 250 miles in 72.5 miles an hour for the 200 miles, 52.5 miles an hour for the 100 miles, and 81.41 miles an hour for 100 miles.

His time for 200 miles was 1:13:41.

Otto Walker of Omaha, Neb., was 75.15 miles an hour.

Don Johns of Los Angeles was third with an average of 77.66 miles an hour.

At three men lowered the previous 200-mile record, which was 78.75 miles an hour, made at Dodge City, Iowa, July 4.

MANSFIELD WINS AT BAUT CASTING.

F. N. PEET OF CHICAGO IS THE VICTIM OF MUCH HARD LUCK.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—Walter D. Mansfield of San Francisco won the final event today of the international fly and bait-casting tournament when he captured first place in the heavy tackle distance fly event with a cast of 124 feet, which also broke the National Association's record of 117 feet, and gave Mansfield the Panama-Pacific Exposition silver trophy.

F. N. Peet, the Chicago fly casting and joint holder of the record broken by Mansfield, was the victim of hard luck in the fly casting before he could exceed 124 feet.

C. G. Young of San Francisco won the trophy in the accuracy fly casting event.

JOE RIVERS BEATS UP YOAKUM IN DENVER BOUT.

BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.

DENVER (Colo.) Aug. 15.—Joe Rivers, the brown-skinned Mexican of Los Angeles, was given the final event today of the international fly and bait-casting tournament when he captured first place in the heavy tackle distance fly event with a cast of 124 feet, which also broke the National Association's record of 117 feet, and gave Mansfield the Panama-Pacific Exposition silver trophy.

Rivers was much the cleverer of the two, at times fainting his opponent into knots, and on several occasions the猛的 right-hand swing which, if he had had it, would have been curtain for the Denver lad.

HEAD FIRST.

It was announced that Rivers will meet Johnny Dundee here the latter night during the dry-farming congress, when a hundred thousand visitors are expected in Denver, and a record-breaking attendance is looked for.

Rivers and his manager, Bob Laga, will leave for Los Angeles tomorrow morning to make arrangements to stay for a month in preparation for his engagement with Johnny Dundee.

You may find that Fatima were originally "Made and blended for the King of What's"—would that fact prove that you were going to like Fatima best?

It would not.

A man's taste is his own. A cigarette that might delight some old potente's palate would not necessarily please you.

That's why we leave Fatima up to your taste.

But there is something more than good taste that is mighty important to you.

No matter how good-tasting a cigarette may be it can only be the SENSIBLE cigarette for you if it is comfortable, too.

Its pure tobacco must be cool and comfortable to your throat at all times. And it must leave you feeling fine and fit at the end of a hard-smoking day.

Will it do all that?

Then, it is the sensible cigarette for YOU.

There are thousands and thousands of men who believe that Fatima is the most sensible cigarette there is.

Try them yourself. You may discover—as these thousands of other men have—that Fatima

GREENS ARE A PROBLEM FOR THE COUNTRY CLUB.

Considerable Argument as to How They Should be Made. — Midweek Experiments with Concrete Bases and Grass Approaches — Others Make Use of Gravel and Oil — Del Monte has the Ideal Greens.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

THE green committees of our various country clubs generally wear an aspect of resigned misery or belligerent defiance. Someone is always knocking the greens, it is the most vexatious of questions in every golf club. Whether they may be of grass or sand, or sand and oil, whether they are smooth green or $10, whether they are like billiard tables or switchback railways, blind or plain view, a section of the members is always dissatisfied.

A PROBLEM.

The problem is even greater in Southern California, where we have to plan for six months drought and six months of normal weather. For the greens that are best for dry weather leave everything to be desired in the winter. The ideal grass green is a luxury beyond the dreams of average golfers. It costs $1000 a month and a private Owens River Aqueduct to keep them up. Although golfers still look forward to the day when some noble Burbank will create a mossy green that will grow in a meat tray without being different to water and mowing machine.

The Los Angeles Country Club is now experimenting with smaller oil greens, with close-cropped grass approaches in place of those oil aprons which were a drought expedient. And they are praying for a sandpit of their very own.

NOT SO GOOD.

At present they have to use the surface sand, which lacks the desirable quality of the pit sand in which the San Gabriel, Virgins and Victoria clubs are fortunate. Los Angeles has to make up in expansive attention what it lacks in the quality of its sand in order to keep its greens as good as the best.

The ideal green for good golf should be slow, so that the massive pitch shot will stay just where it is pitched, and the chip shot with a firm stroke can hit the stroke true; truly that one can hit hard, and fast, greens mean nervous, finicky little taps. The contour of every green should offer a variety of shots, that putting becomes a scientific and versatile accomplishment. But the golfing committee should be identical on all strokes. It is not sufficient to make the greens difficult with bunkering, but every green should offer a distinct problem, demanding a nice calculation for a multitude of different strokes.

ONLY THEN.

Only then can the good golfer reap the reward of his skill and experience. Nothing short of the sweet dispensation of divine grace can be more than to find themselves playing even with a long-handled man, solely because of the delectable kick which a flat fast green deserves irrespective of skill.

On our Southern California clubs have always tried the green problems and are still experimenting. Out at Midweek they constructed concrete bases, which were to prove highly advantageous as a foundation for the greens, and as such, but owing to the great difficulty of getting them in the narrow courses, and it is now feared they will only hamper the drainage. But Midweek was the first club to indulge the luxury of grass approaches and smaller greens, which Los Angeles is now emulating, and there seems to be a fairly unanimous agreement that this is a great improvement.

NIGHT CLIPS.

Concrete bases increase the resilience of the grass, and a careful preparation of plain mother earth seems to be more satisfactory. But there is always the grievous difficulty of getting the resistance of the surface uniform on all the greens. But it is agreed definitely that a good sand base has improved per cent, better than a poor grass green, and even on the best eastern courses the greens are highly unsatisfactory during the hot weather.

Of our Los Angeles clubs, San Gabriel is the most fortunate in natural soil, but it does not depend either the care or the money on her greens that Los Angeles and Midweek do. If she did she would easily have the best greens south of Del Monte. The Los Angeles discoverer of anything on her property she will certainly extol all other clubs on the green question, for she has the money and the green committee to see that any natural advantages are made the very most of.

READY CLAPS.

One reason why Del Monte is so popular for the championship is the grass approach, which is flat and extremely irregular. They offer the golfer every chance to exhibit his skill, and such shots cannot be counted upon by hopeful duffers. One of the first things a tournament competitor must do is to study those greens and estimate their varied and interesting deviations.

They have striven for the ideal that the best greens must be difficult, but true. Nothing is quite as irritating as a green that is apparently as flat as a billiard table, but untrue, holes the putts. The greens that are flat at Del Monte can invariably be relied upon to be true as well. And the difficult greens, which call for the skilled shots of golf, can be relied upon to respond to the test of the expert. The approach shot and the putting green really determine the character of a course, and in this department Del Monte has risen to the occasion and made herself a worthy championship course.

They will be high-class music, presentation of the medal of honor, bathing beauties, Charlie Chaplin imitators and motor car contests. At night there will be special fireworks all in all to make it one of the liveliest and most enjoyable days at the exposition.

CADILLAC TOUR STARTS TODAY.

TWENTY PARTIES WILL MAKE THE RUN TO SAN FRANCISCO.

The tour of Cadillac owners from Los Angeles to the Panama-Pacific Exposition will leave Twelfth and Main streets at 12:30 this afternoon.

She is bent on setting speed records from here to New York that no one has ever equalled, but she doesn't expect either the care or the money on her greens that Los Angeles and Midweek do. If she did she would easily have the best greens south of Del Monte. The Los Angeles discoverer of anything on her property she will certainly extol all other clubs on the green question, for she has the money and the green committee to see that any natural advantages are made the very most of.

Demands against the city for $5000 damages to a motorcycle have been filed by Attorneys Ticknor and Carter for DeWitt Macy and Frank L. Burr. In return, the municipal light department will probably start suit against Mr. Macy for damages to a city right-of-way.

Mr. Macy alleged that his son is responsible for the accident in which his motorcycle ran into a municipal light auto at California street and Raymond avenue. The city claims that Mr. Macy was driving at a rate of thirty-five miles an hour and could not control his motorcycle. The demands for damages which Mr. Macy is presenting may be rejected at the meeting of the City Commission this morning.

Studebaker Common Goes to 120 for an Advance of 20 1/2—Stock is Also Very Strong.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Further further manipulation of the war shares at higher prices, active business in international issues, and utter demoralization in the market for foreign exchange were the conflicting features of today's session on the New York stock exchange. Trading in the war bonds completely overshadowed the dealings in other parts of the list. United States Steel being the only former factor to receive attention, was the bringer of the news. One very large turnover, ranging in individual lots from 1,000 to 4,000 shares, Steel touched 78%, or within 4% of its top record, and closed at 76 1/2. The high records were broken by American Can at 64%, Prest-O-Lite at 62, Westinghouse at 118, and Studebaker common and preferred at 120, all of which were irregularly.

The extreme gains of Studebaker common for the day was 20%. Numerous other stocks in the same class added 2 to 8 points to last week's final closes. The market was generally forward the close. Coopers recovered from their recent lethargy, their advance of 1 to 3 points being stimulated by reports of a large part of the remainder in foreign interests, particularly the allies. Railways were under persistent pressure until the final hour, when a recovery in the exchange market caused an inquiry for the market and a decided rally. Total sales amounted 970,000 shares.

The feature of greatest unsettlement was the decline in demand for endorsements and loan points, and new low records. Demand sterling fell to 4.5%, a drop of 5 points from the low of last week. Paris checks were quoted at 600, a loss of 100, and bills at 647, a break of 10 cents from last week. These rates rebounded sharply in the final hour, on a report that New York bankers were holding a conference to win some relief measure.
Other news bearing upon the financial situation dealt with an other advance in prices of manufactured goods, and crop advances from the West and Southern markets.
Following last week's favorable reporta, London sold moderately in this market of the international list; all these issued in London did well, and crop advances
Total sales, par value, $3,000,000.
United States bonds unchanged on call.

RECALL FIGHT WON IN COURT.

HUNTINGTON PARK MUST NOW HOLD ELECTION.

Signers Cannot Withdraw Their Names from Petition After It has been Certified in Hailing Which will Place Issue on Trustees up to the Voters.

After a recall petition is certified as to its sufficiency or insufficiency signers cannot withdraw their names. Judge Hewitt held yesterday in the latest angle of the recall fight in the city of Huntington Park. The court held that the withdrawal must take place before the petition was certified.

The fight began in Huntington Park to remove the Trustee who had developed a Hively scrap. Judge Hewitt delivered an opinion yesterday which in effect says that an election must be called by the city to determine whether or not the Trustees shall be ousted. The Trustee, A. M. Leonard, chairman; A. M. Leomie, Charles W. Barrett, J. C. Tarr and Arthur W. Moorman. Only three members of the board, Leonard, Leomie and Barrett, are affected by the decision. Mr. Moorman has been in office less than six months. Mr. Tarr has resigned and his successor was only recently installed into office.

The Trustees were charged with endeavoring to divert money in the park for their personal benefit and ground. An injunction suit was heard by Judge Woods, who granted a temporary restraining order. With this victory, George Cyphers, a civil engineer, and taxpayer, went to the beginning of the two-train defense. The recall was started and it was certified as insufficient by W. H. Ross, City Clerk. A supplemental petition was filed, which Mr. Ross declined to consider technically.

Mr. Cyphers went into court, asking for a writ of mandate compelling Mr. Ross to certify the petition. Judge Hewitt granted the writ, which means that the fight is now shifted to the city itself.

TUNNEL LEGAL.

HILL-STREET CARE DECIDED. The legality of the proceeding for the construction of the Hill-street tunnel was upheld by Judge Hewitt yesterday in an opinion handed down in the action brought by John P. Ham against W. H. Bullard, trustee of the tunnel sellers. Mrs. Ham's property on bonds issued against it for a delinquent assessment of $1500.

Mrs. Ham claimed that under the Vrooman act no authority was given to construct tunnels in order to make way for improvements. Mr. Bullard purchased the bonds. Judge Hewitt held that the act does expressly confer the power and that there was no valid objection to the tunnel.

Judge Hewitt delivered a similar opinion in the injunction suit of Henry W. Hughes against City Treasurer Hance and Mr. Bullard. Mr. Hughes was the author of the Senate bill to tax W. H. Hughes. The question involved was the legality of the sale of the property of the Hughes estate for delinquent assessments in the Hill-street tunnel construction.

MUST REFUND.

STOCKHOLDER WINS. Under a decision given by Judge Hewitt yesterday, the American Holding Company must cancel $6000 shares of its capital stock sold to Robert C. Farrar and refund $732, the purchase price. The judgment was affirmed by the Court of Appeals. James W. Doherty and Clinton E. Dawson, but not against Robert H. Gilmore and John M. Fisher, all of whom were named as defendants. The action brought by Mr. Farrar and his wife, Frances Farrar, was based on misrepresentations.

It was alleged Mr. Buttress represented to the Farrars that he had received a patent on a railroad stock indicator and that he had obtained the patent for the American Holding Company, whose principal asset it was. It was represented that $4,000 shares of stock in the corporation had been sold at 12% cents a share and the proceeds used in locating a factory at Michiana, where it was held out to the Farrars, they claimed, that if they bought stock, the money would be used in the construction of the indicator. The corporation, it was claimed, was in a good financial condition.

The Farrars invested in the stock and discovered, they contended, that these representations were false. Furthermore, it was also agreed that the corporation issued to Mr. Buttress 999 shares of stock without consideration.

BURROW STILL UP.

NEW SUIT IS FILED. John Boyd, who recently went into Judge Shenk's court to determine why it is that the city officials of the city of Sierra Madre objected to the standing in the street, has followed that suit with another. Judge Shenk found that the city had a right to make rules and regulations in its police powers. The action, however, is against the city of Sierra Madre, the Trustees and City Marshal George H. Cox, and is an attack on the validity of the ordinance adopted June 27 last, regulating corrals and livery stables.

Mr. Boyd has ten burros and four horses. He uses the burros in taking tourists up the mountains. His residence and business is in the prescribed district and because of this he is not allowed to drive his burros out. Mr. Boyd now claims the ordinance is invalid and defective because it attempts to declare the business of keeping animals for hire in the prescribed district a nuisance. He also says it is an exercise of judicial functions contrary to the powers of the Trustees and is discriminatory under the guise of police regulation.

It is sought to restrain the Trustees from enforcing the ordinance and to conform it with his business and to declare the ordinance null, void and unconstitutional.

NEW LOAN ISSUE.

DEBTOR FIGHTS COSTS. The unique issue raised in the suit of Roslyn Sturt, an English money lender, to recover from F. P. Marshall $1000 a loan made in London, but which Mr. Marshall claimed was withdrawn, may be taken to a higher court. It involves the question whether fees charged for taking depositions in London should be charged against Mr. Marshall.

Depositions were taken in England by the American Consul-General, who charged $150 for the services. A charge of $7 each was made for witnesses under the English law of conducting money. In England witness are allowed for their expenses and loss of service to their business while attending court.

Judge Hewitt, who tried the case and gave judgment for Mr. Marshall, but held the witness fees days too high, ruled that the American law should be applied in the American case. The judgment was $420 and the costs $25. Yesterday Mr. Marshall objected to the cost bill on the ground that they were not charges allowed by the State law.

In the trial of the action he conceded that the allowed sum was not made at a registered address. The testimony showed that it was made over the telephone. Judge Hewitt was obliged to interpret the English law as to money lenders. He decided the loan valid. Attorney Sanford represented Mr. Marshall.

ALL OVER MUSIC.

FINAL DIVORCE DECREE. The final decree of divorce in the legal action brought by Judge Wood, it was decided yesterday, was $5,000. The decree was granted by Judge Wood. Clark, counsel for Mrs. Hazel J. Keating in her action against Edward Keating. Coincident with this application of the decree, the court dismissed the suit of Mr. Keating against the City of Los Angeles, which he had filed against Judge Church, who tried the case, and gave Mrs. Keating a decree and alimony of $5,000.

By agreement of the attorneys this sum was paid down to $2,000 and the motion for a new trial made by Mr. Keating through Attorney J. Wilson Macdonald was dismissed by Judge Wood. This sum has been paid by Mr. Keating to Mrs. Keating, who resides with her son, Mr. George M. Wilson, of this city.

Mrs. Keating is pursuing her musical studies under Prof. Lett, and it is her expectation to engrave in concert soon. It was these studies which Mr. Keating was able to object to while they were living together. Mrs. Keating testified that he objected to her singing and playing the piano.

BUILD FOR NOTHING. BUT COURT TAKES HAND.

A mechanic's lien suit, in which fraud was an allegation involved in the construction of two houses in Boyle Heights, the only money paid in their construction, the testimony showed, being $110 to Mr. E. K. Wood Lumber Company. The action was brought by the E. J. Stanton Hardwood Flooring Company and other material concerns. The suit was against Thomas Beale, Thomas R. Riley and his wife, Irene Riley. The suit was hotly fought in Judge Hewitt's court for two weeks, resulting in the court giving judgment yesterday in full for the mechanic's liens.

The story, as it unfolded in court, appeared to be that Mr. Riley bought a lot in Boyle Heights and subsequently deeded the property to Mr. Beale, taking a mortgage for $1750 and a trust deed for $750. Mr. Beale went to material men and obtained materials for the houses. The houses were completed June 14, 1911. Two days later the property was sold on the trust deed, Mrs. Riley bidding the property in.

This brief was the story how to build houses for nothing. Mr. Beale, who was discovered to be a nonentity, had gone to Florida, and his deposition was taken. He stated he was acting as agent for the Riley, receiving $15 a week for his work.

SECOND TIME AGAIN AFTER DIVORCE.

Two of the three matrimonial ventures of Alice Christner led to the divorce court. Her first husband died a year after they were married, she testified in alimony proceedings against A. C. Christner yesterday. She received about $8000 from his estate. Three years ago she remarried, and sometimes later obtained a decree of divorce.

She knew Mr. Christner only three months before she married him.

"You think you ought to have all my money," one of the women asked her.

"Yes, I think Mr. Christner ought to provide for me."

"What became of the $8000 you received from your first husband's estate?" Mr. Christner's attorney asked her.

"I am in poor health and spent the money building it up."

The court ordered Mr. Christner to pay her $30 a month until December, when the suit will be tried, and ordered from the bank from which more than this amount from $800 on deposit there. A note he has, which is held by an out-of-state bank, must be sent for and left with the court.

NO DAMAGES.

WOMAN LOSSES SUIT.

Charles A. Weyerhaeuser, son of the late lumber king, defended by deposition of Adia Diamond, who alleged she had received a nervous shock to her system as the result of an accident in which Mr. Weyerhaeuser's auto and a milk wagon careered at North Broad last. Miles Diamond at the time was delivering milk to customers. She alleged the auto driver was negligent. Mr. Weyerhaeuser, through Attorney George Newell, said: "We are not negligent; that was an accident, and that Miss Diamond was not injured."

The Weyerhaeuser investment, they contended, that these representations were false. Furthermore, it was also agreed that the information issued to Mr. Buttress $999 shares of stock without consideration.

INS AND OUTS.

ABOUT THE COURTS.

COMPLAINT IS GOOD. The California Accident Association, investigated by the State Insurance Commissioner and alleged not to have transacted business in conformity with the insurance laws, lost the first round in the legal battle staged by Atty. Gen. Webb. The demurser of the Attorney-General asking for the appointment of a receiver was overruled by Judge Hewitt yesterday, and the court will seek to give the contract to some concern that will rush the work to completion.

YOUNG IS EXONERATED.

Peter Young, sewer inspector, who was tried before the Board of Public Works two weeks ago on a charge of approving a job where inferior materials were used, was exonerated yesterday. In his defense, Mr. Young said the board's verdict was that Mr. Young was guilty of an error in judgment in approving this work, but with extenuating circumstances, and he was told not to let it happen again.

MINOR CIVIL AFFAIRS.

Protests against improving Baxier street from Echo Park to Lemoyne street will be heard by the Council Aug. 25. Protests against paving Yale street west from College street will be heard Aug. 26.

The Council passed ordinances yesterday for the improvement of Mariposa street between Council and Third street, and providing for severing the Wilshire street.

Miss Rogers, recently appointed as a member of the Board of Motion Picture Censors, qualified yesterday.

The Public Utilities Committee will recommend to the Pacific Electric the franchise to the city of Glendale for Secondino line. Usual charter provisions must be required, and the company must agree to run at least ten passenger trains a day.

MOVIE CENSORS UPHELD.

The ordinance creating the board of censors for motion pictures was declared valid yesterday by Judge Hewitt in deciding an injunction sought against the American Theater Company, which had been stopped from presenting a movie play.

"The Woman," that had been banned by the censors.

PROPOSAL TO ELIMINATE THE "SUNDAY SALOON."

New Ordinance Favored by Public Welfare Committee to Limit Social Club Licenses to Twenty-four and Provide for Stringent Regulation of All Bars.

Stringent regulation of social clubs where liquor are sold and the elimination of the so-called "Sunday saloons" and "one-man clubs" is proposed in a new ordinance approved by the Public Welfare Committee of the Council yesterday. The new ordinance was drawn by Councilman Topham and Police Commissioners Johnson and suggestions by Councilman Conwell were also incorporated in their report. The chief provisions in the new ordinance are that the number of social clubs in the city be limited to twenty-four and that the license fee be $25 a month for each club.
